10:30	Morning Keynote: Children's digital practices, pedagogy, & assessment - revolution, stasis, & constraints! <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Emerging findings from NP3 (New Purposes, New Practices, New Pedagogy) - young people are engaging in a wide range of digital practices outside school, with some unexpected variations. There is little evidence of these practices being valued or built upon in most of NP3's focus primary schools due factors including accountability and assessment constraints. These findings reinforce earlier Open University research in England and Australia which suggest that paper-based assessment is a major driver of practice in schools and barrier to change. Further detail http://www.np3.org.uk and http://edfutures.net/ICT_strategy_research Thought provoking video - https://youtu.be/DPaMtUvILW4 Confirmed Speaker: Professor Peter Twining, Professor of Education (Futures) at the Open University, Co-Editor in Chief of Computers & Education and Director of NP3
